

Space Rivals

It has come to your attention, that a newly discovered planet called Vpac7 is able to support life. You are eager to be the first to colonize this planet and as quickly as possible you assemble a team to go with you on this campaign.

As you orbit planet Vpac7 you spot other competitors from different galaxies. Apparently planet Vpac7 has even more to offer than you are aware of, and you prepare yourself to engage your rivals in order to be the first to colonize planet Vpac7.....

Be the first to deliver 14 crates to the base on Vpac7 and do whatever it takes to prevent your rivals from being the first to deliver their crates.

How to play

You have a limited amount of bullets, shield and health. If you run low on either of them, your men on your baseship might give you the one you need the most along with a crate.

There are more gravity on Vpac7 than you are used to, so be careful when you deliver your crates. Every time your ship gets damaged you will loose one bar of health.
